

2021 Beijing Institute of Technology International Winter Program 'Cloud lessons'

Learning practical application of Chinese, enjoy multi-cultures, and making friends universally

Program introduction: During these challenging times, BIT wants to provide meaningful opportunities for international students to stay connected and continue your education while staying safe at home. Join our two-week winter program online classes and start your creative culture and language journey. The Multicultural Curriculum Practice course offers unique opportunities for participants to build new skills in a fun and engaging environment. Students will develop artistic skills through live-streamed interactive classes, individualized and group learning, and enriching video resources. HSK 4 Intensive Training course is opening to Chinese learners who are preparing for the test of HSK4. The course includes introduction of questions in HSK examination, analysis of key language points, test skills training, and practical exercises. The course involves the training of three major skills which are Listening, reading and writing respectively. Learners can quickly handle an answering skill of HSK4 and establish a systematic framework of grammar knowledge for the examination. At the end of the course, learners will be provided with an electronic set of HSK4 original test paper for further practices. Each course whether you live near or far, our online programs will connect you with BIT faculty, professional and experienced teaching staffs. You will harvest with an expanded horizon, a deep understanding of the world, a fun online learning journey and friendships around the world.
